The weather shows that the cooler temperatures are here to stay. I honestly can't believe how quickly November is flying by and this weekend is another opening weekend for hunting. The deer are sure moving and the temperatures have really changed. This week, the highs are in the twenties with lows of six or seven for the weekend. No snow is in the forecast though for hunters for the opening weekend, just cooler temperatures. Hopefully, everyone has everything ready for winter.

Make sure to put the craft fare on your schedule for Saturday November 19th at the Hiles Town Hall. It will go from 10am to 3pm. Will also have a bake sale for the Forest County 4H Klippety Klop group. It's always fun to see what's available from our local crafters.

Also on your calendar should be the Annual Hiles Fire Department Christmas Dinner that will be December 10th this year at the Hiles Town Hall.

Please keep the family of Naomi Nirschl in your prayers. Naomi, a longtime Hiles resident, passed away on November 10th. She is survived by her children Paul Nirschl and Karen Ellis of Hiles, along with Sharon (Scott) Shebasta of DePere, Claire Yesenski of Appleton and Mark (Dee) Nirschl of Georgia along with their children and many family members and friends. Naomi worked as a nurse at the Crandon Nursing Home and the Eagle River Hospital for many years and touched many lives with her kindness.

Have a great week everyone!
